“Let me tell you, they say that truth is stranger than fiction, and the phrase has never been more relevant than in reference to Bob Hartley. His inimitable wit, outspoken demeanor, ambitious attitude, and utter lack of concern with the way others perceive him have created a tidal wave of God’s grace, leaving a wake of tall tales wherever he goes.

“As his son, I have been greatly impacted by his many stories. My father has endured a life filled with painful challenges, many of them self-induced. And yet, after all that he’s been through, he remains dedicated to proclaiming the hope he has found in an amazing God.

“This is not a biography but rather a collection of stories that illustrate the many life lessons my father has learned—often the hard way. Never one to sweep his mistakes under the rug, explain them away, or blame them on others, he has embraced his errors, learned from them, and shared them with me, so that I might build my life on the same hope he has found and fought for.

“My aim in writing this book has been to capture the heart of my father’s incredible stories and to share them so that they might impact you in the same way they have impacted me.”

AUTHOR BIO Jedidiah Hartley is an author and screenwriter based out of Kansas City, Missouri. A graduate of Youth With A Mission’s University of the Nations, Jedidiah has been extensively involved in mission work for the past several years. Before his recent move back to Kansas City, he was the associate producer of a production company called Chosen and Dearly Loved, where he assisted in the creation of materials that were used to raise funds and build awareness to benefit orphans with special needs.

Bob Hartley is a business owner and the founder of Deeper Waters, an international ministry based in Kansas City, Missouri. Bob is a frequent speaker to businesspeople and ministries throughout America and the world. He believes he has been given a lifelong call from the Lord to bring the hope-filled kingdom of God into the marketplace and the church.
